6.1 Telling Public Radio's Story

Jump to question: 6.1

The purpose of this section is to give you an opportunity to tell us and your community about the activities you have engaged in to address community needs by outlining key services provided, and the local value and impact of those services. Please report on activities that occurred in Fiscal Year 2021. Responses may be shared with Congress or the public. Grantees are required to post a copy of this report (Section 6 only) to their website no later than ten (10) days after the submission of the report to CPB. CPB recommends placing the report in an "About" or similar section on your website. This section had previously been optional. Response to this section of the SAS is now mandatory.

Joint licensee Grantees that have filed a 2021 Local Content and Services Report as part of meeting the requirement for TV CSG funding may state they have done so in the corresponding questions below, so long as all of the questions below were addressed as they relate to radio operations in such report. You must include the date the report was submitted to CPB along with the TV Grantee ID under which it was submitted.

1. Describe your overall goals and approach to address identified community issues, needs, and interests through your station's vital local services, such as multiplatform long and short-form content, digital and in-person engagement, education services, community information, partnership support, and other activities, and audiences you reached or new audiences you engaged.

WTJU's core mission is to enrich the culture of Virginia and extend the educational mission of UVA by bringing together diverse individuals and communities through exceptional music and conversation. We do this through non-commercial radio, digital media, live music concerts, cultural events, and educational programs. In Fiscal Year 2021, we undertook the following overarching goals: GOAL 1: CONNECT PEOPLE TO EACH OTHER THROUGH SHARED ARTS EXPERIENCES. Much of FY21 was dominated by the COVID-19 pandemic, though things started to open up in the last quarter of FY21. In response to the pandemic, WTJU carried out a number of broadcast and engagement initiatives to connect people to needed resources and serve as a hub of arts experiences for our community. These included live concerts (on-air and video streaming), virtual music trivia nights, outdoor vinyl record spinning events, interstitials campaigns for getting and giving help, and more. GOAL 2: PROVIDE COMMUNITY INFORMATION & DISCUSSION OF LOCAL & STATE ISSUES. WTJU airs public affairs content specifically focused on the Charlottesville area. During FY2021, WTJU produced and aired twice daily news packages and a weekly magazine focused on local & state politics explainers. Locally, we continued our partnership with Charlottesville Tomorrow and began working with Charlottesville Inclusive Media Project. GOAL 3: IMPROVE DIGITAL SERVICES TO OUR COMMUNITY. During FY2021, WTJU continued to develop its podcast collective, connects listeners with exceptional stories, conversations, and music. The podcast collective provides a platform for community members, UVA faculty, and students to develop and produce digital-first community media content. During the COVID pandemic, we also saw a spike on webstreaming listenership and digital media engagement. GOAL 4: INCREASE OPPORTUNITIES FOR YOUNG PEOPLE TO ENGAGE WITH WTJU. In early FY2021, WTJU held three weeks of virtual summer youth radio camps for upper elementary and middle school students for our eighth consecutive year.

2. Describe key initiatives and the variety of partners with whom you collaborated, including other public media outlets, community nonprofits, government agencies, educational institutions, the business community, teachers and parents, etc. This will illustrate the many ways you're connected across the community and engaged with other important organizations in the area.

WTJU has engaged with a wide variety of partners on a raft of projects. These projects can roughly be categorized in two main ways: 1) Enrich the culture of Virginia and connect people to each other through music; 2) Extend the University's educational mission by strengthening activities that bridge the University with surrounding communities. 1. USE LIVE MUSIC TO CONNECT COMMUNITY MEMBERS TO ONE ANOTHER WTJU has long emphasized live music -- both on-air and in community events. In FY21, these included: -- In September 2020, WTJU once again partnered with IX Art Park, the City of Charlottesville, Lifeview Marketing, and others to organize and present the Charlottesville-Albemarle Black Business Expo. This year's Expo was largely virtual, but also included a socially distanced and video-streaming outdoor concert. More than 1,000 people "attended" the event virtually. -- During the pandemic year, WTJU continued to partner with a local nonprofit music school (The Front Porch) to produce twice-weekly, socially distanced concerts. These aired on WTJU and streamed via our social media channels. 2. STRENGTHEN ACTIVITIES THAT BRIDGE THE UNIVERSITY AND SURROUNDING COMMUNITIES This is a broad category that included many activities that build on WTJU's role as a cultural hub in our community. Among these partnerships, WTJU was a media sponsor and/or participant in several University and community festivals that converted to virtual format in FY21: Virginia Film Festival, Virginia Festival of the Book, Crozet Arts & Crafts Festival, and more. As the pandemic continued, WTJU worked with several UVA departments to create podcast and broadcast content to amplify the work of the University, including the two University museums, Charlottesville Symphony, Music department, Creative Writing department, Virginia Humanities, UVA School of Education, and UVA Press.

3. What impact did your key initiatives and partnerships have in your community? Describe any known measurable impact, such as increased awareness, learning or understanding about particular issues. Describe indicators of success, such as connecting people to needed resources or strengthening conversational ties across diverse neighborhoods. Did a partner see an increase in requests for related resources? Please include direct feedback from a partner(s) or from a person(s) served.

During the 2020-21 fiscal year, WTJU pursued projects to support two key initiatives: 1) Enrich the culture of Virginia and connect people to each other through music; 2) Extend the University's educational mission by strengthening activities that bridge the University with surrounding communities. Our efforts have made WTJU a hub in the local music scene, strengthened even more by our creative public service efforts during the pandemic. WTJU was able to provide a steady presence in our listeners' lives. A place to take a break from the bleakest news. To recharge to face the world. A place to find comfort in excellent music. A place to connect with our community. Throughout the pandemic, WTJU served as a dedicated booster for artists and performers -- a vital cultural resource in our community for music, arts, education, and connection. A listener sent us a kind note during the pandemic that neatly summed up the impact WTJU sought to have: "I hope you are surviving this crazy time. The station is really doing awesome work sharing information and supporting the local music scene. The DJs seem to feel the responsibility and many are doing their best work."

4. Please describe any efforts (e.g. programming, production, engagement activities) you have made to investigate and/or meet the needs of minority and other diverse audiences (including, but not limited to, new immigrants, people for whom English is a second language and illiterate adults) during Fiscal Year 2021, and any plans you have made to meet the needs of these audiences during Fiscal Year 2022. If you regularly broadcast in a language other than English, please note the language broadcast.

Since the deadly "Unite the Right" rally in Charlottesville in 2017, WTJU has prioritized community reconciliation and better service to diverse audiences. A few of the programming & engagement initiatives in FY2021 included: "PODER LATINO" NEW RADIO SHOW: In partnership with UVA's Latino Health Initiative, Sin Barreras, and UVA Latino student organizations, WTJU developed a new weekly Spanish-language show in late 2020 called Poder Latino. It features music and conversations with community leaders, and airs on Sunday mornings. CHARLOTTESVILLE-ALBEMARLE BLACK BUSINESS EXPO: WTJU and Lifeview Marketing presented the fourth annual Black Business Expo in September 2020 -- partly virtually, partly outdoors at IX Art Park. The Black Business Expo is a free event that supports and celebrates local black-owned businesses. It's designed to celebrate and encourage the success of black-owned businesses locally and beyond. PANDEMIC PUBLIC INFORMATION: As the pandemic wore on, we partnered with Charlottesville Tomorrow, a equity-focused local journalism organization, to provide daily updates on-air and online. These information updates emphasized community resources that serve diverse parts of our community -- as well as ways for other listeners to plug in and help. NEW STRATEGIC FRAMEWORK: During FY21, WTJU developed a new strategic framework, which we adopted at the tail end of FY21. This framework sets a high priority on attracting more black and brown listeners and participants, such that WTJU's on-air talent and audience better reflect the demographics of our community. WTJU has been an active participant in Public Media For All in FY21 (and so far in FY22), and we are presently developing new daily programming to better serve Charlottesville's African-American community.

5. Please assess the impact that your CPB funding had on your ability to serve your community. What were you able to do with your grant that you wouldn't be able to do if you didn't receive it?

During the pandemic, CPB funds provided a lifeline to make up for other lost revenues. Event revenues dropped to zero. Business underwriting revenue was down 30%. CPB funding was stable and a source of much emotional security as we navigated the budget waters of the pandemic. CPB funding enabled WTJU to continue our critical community service during fraught times and make smart investments in our future. FACILITIES & EQUIPMENT: During the pandemic, WTJU invested in a substantial amount of equipment and tech systems to enable remote broadcasting. Given our reliance on volunteer hosts from the community, we set up approximately 70 people to do live broadcasting from home. This required not just decent USB audio interfaces but also a browser-based audio traffic management system. CPB funds helped us cover these costs. ACCESS TO NATIONAL & STATE PROGRAMMING: CPB funding connects WTJU to the world of syndicated public radio content. The CSG grant enables WTJU to access PRX.org and air & distribute excellent national and international music and public affairs shows. WTJU also funds its membership in the Virginia Public Radio (VPR) network with CPB funds, enabling us to bring statewide news to our listeners. STAFF TO PRODUCE SYNDICATED PROGRAMMING: In FY21, CPB funds paid for WTJU staff to produce and distribute two radio programs to a national audience: 1) "Jazz at 100 Today," exploring contemporary artists creating new work that stands on the shoulders of giants; and 2) "Tell Us A Tale," featuring stories adapted from traditional children's tales and performed by Charlottesville-area voice actors.

This section builds on the Census of Journalists conducted by CPB in the summer of 2010. These positions are the primary professional full-time, part-time or contract contributors to local journalism at your organization. The individuals in these positions will have had training in the standards and practices of fact-based news origination, verification, production and presentation. These are generally accepted titles for these positions but may not match position descriptions at your organization exactly. Please do your best to account for each professional journalist in your organization. Please do not count student or volunteer journalists.
